

(Left photo) Flag raising ceremony with the officers and staff. (Right photo) Officers and staff of the Philippine Embassy in The Netherlands at the Independence Day Diplomatic Reception in Crowne Plaza Hotel.

6 August 2012 - In commemoration of the 114th anniversary of the proclamation of Philippine Independence, the Philippine Embassy in The Hague, The Netherlands held a simple flag-raising ceremony at the Chancery last June 12.

A diplomatic reception followed in the afternoon at the Crowne Plaza Hotel in The Hague.

(Left photo) Ambassador Lourdes G. Morales (2nd from right), Minister Frank R. Cimafranca (center left) and Consul Marie Charlotte G. Tang welcome H.E. Huynh Minh Chinh, Ambassador of Vietnam, at the Philippine Embassy in The Hague. (Right photo) Diplomatic Corps members sample Filipino dishes.

Edited from the Philippine Star by the Philippine Press Photo Service, Manila, Philippines

Ambassador Morales delivers her welcome remarks at the Frank Callaghan Gallery in Amsterdam. Guests admired the photo gallery in the Philippine Consulate in Amsterdam.

Ambassador Morales (top photo), Ambassador Victoria S. Bataclan (middle photo) and Dr. Stella Luz A. Quimbo (photo below) sign the Floriade Guest Book.

The 150th anniversary of the Philippine Revolution is celebrated at Floradivisio Markt. The Philippine flag

Official Ceremony of the Philippine Revolution Centennial at the 150th Anniversary of the Philippine Revolution. The attendees of the Ambassador Morales (center) is joined by Ambassador Bataclan (right) and Ambassador Cristina G. Ortega (left) at the Philippine Booth in Villa Flora, Floriade.

During the event, the Philippine Embassy in The Hague also presented a performance by the Philippine National Ballet, featuring a traditional Filipino dance. The performance was highly praised by the audience.