12 February 2010- The Philippine Consulate General to Honolulu reported to the Department of Foreign Affairs that the Philippine Consulate General was the Final Stop for the "Fourth Annual Liliha-Nu'uanu District Candle Light Tour," held on the first full moon of the year.

Representative Corinne Ching organized this socio-cultural project for residents of District 27 (Liliha, Alewa Heights, Nu'uanu, Pu'unui, Palama).

As part of the Candle Light Tour, Representative Ching provided tour guides who acquainted them with the Philippine Consulate General building which was built in 1905 in the Hawaiian style of a Summer Mansion, also one of the historical buildings and a long-standing institution in District 27 that includes the Queen Emma Summer Palace and the Consular Missions of Japan, Republic of Korea and the Taipei Economic and Cultural Office.
