

14 March 2013 – Filipino and Filipino-American students from six colleges and universities in New York and New Jersey converged at Rutgers University in New York on March 10 for the 12th

Battle of the Barrios.

The Battle of the Barrios is an annual musical skit and dance competition throughout the US Northeast including Maryland and Virginia. The participating schools are divided into five (5) districts.

District 3 held its 12th Battle competition before a jam-packed Traves Hall at the Douglass Campus Center of Rutgers University.
